is back after seasons in New York, Edinburgh and Berlin with Chansons: Piaf, Brel & Me - A Musical Cabaret about France.

"A Revelation"

★★★★ LondonTheatre1

An enchanting musical journey awaits lovers of theatre, musical cabaret, and the rich tapestry of French culture at the Adelaide Town Hall, Australia. Chansons: Piaf, Brel & Me is more than a performance - it's an immersive journey blending autobiography, French insights, and intercultural experiences.

Award winning singer and musical theatre actress Stefanie Rummel skillfully weaves singing and storytelling inviting audiences to embrace the 'Joie de Vivre' and 'Savoir de Vivre'. Chansons, stories in melody, celebrate human understanding and reflects profoundly on mutual learning - a magical universal language expressed through music.

"Charming & Seductive"
Broadway World

Internationally acclaimed in New York, Berlin, and Edinburgh, Stefanie Rummel garners exceptional reviews for her captivating voice and profound artistry. She breathes new life into classics, adding emotional depth to "Padam, Padam" (Piaf) and "Ne me quitte pas" (Brel) in a soul-touching way.

Rummel's versatile voice, warm and deep, embraces soft yet powerful chansons. Mastery across genres - from soulful Chansons and Jazz standards to infectious Pop beats and timeless Traditionals and Songwriter song - is evident. The repertoire features classics sung by legends like Edith Piaf, Jacques Brel, and Frank Sinatra, leaving an indelible global mark.
